MEMORIALS

Imperishable

MEMORIAL is an expression of loving remembrance. It perpetuates not only the name and standing of the individual or family for whom it is erected, but it anchors for the ages the thought and regard of those who are left with but a cherished memory.

A memorial is the final and the lasting tribute. To provide a suitable resting place for the ones we loved is at once our duty and our consolation. It stands as far as an inanimate thing can for all the beloved departed meant to us in life.

Many years ago French designers and artisans of the first rank brought to New Orleans from the old world the best in memorial art. Evident in their work was the inspiration of ages of accumulated knowledge and rigid adherence to inflexible standards. They believed that the results of their efforts were worth nothing until they were right.

For thirty-five years we have been perpetuating in the Southern States the fine traditions of Ante-Bellum memorial art. Where our Old World predecessors left off we began. Our designers follow untiringly the example so ably set for them.

Our Designing Department is under the supervision of an architect of long experience and high reputation among the disciples of memorial art. This Department will furnish without obligation on your part original designs and if you wish will endeavor to carry out correctly any ideas of your own.

In this Department we also make a special study of interior memorials such as those used in churches, libraries, schools, and other public buildings. These include all forms of ecclesiastical accessories.

The imperishable materials we use are principally granite, marble and bronze. Our granites are the celebrated Dorian Gray, Barre, Mount Airey and other excellent granites of various shades and texture from the New England and other states.

You will be interested in the following list of our clients. Doubtless you know many of them. By permission we refer you to them.

Accompanying this booklet is a number of pictures of memorials designed and erected by us. When you contemplate building a memorial we will be glad to have you communicate with us. A letter or a telephone call will receive prompt and careful attention.
